

CONTENTS

|                                                                                              |           |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Introduction                                                                          | ix |
| About this Book                                                                              | ix        |
| Background                                                                                   | x         |
|                                                                                          |           |
| 1. Americanized Marxism and Critical Race Theory                                      | 1  |
| The Fundamentals of Marxism and Postmodernism                                                | 1         |
| Critical Race Theory                                                                         | 5         |
| The Indianization of Critical Race Theory                                                    | 8         |
| The Americanization of Caste: Caste Consideredthe Architecture of Global Racism          | 11        |
| Hindu Dharma Dismissed as a Frozen and Abusive System                                        | 19        |
| Ignoring Other Caste Systems                                                                 | 22        |
| Dismantling Hindu Dharma is Considered Necessary                                             | 25        |
|                                                                                          |           |
| 2. Breaking the Indian Institutes of Technology:    The Evolution of Scholarship | 28 |
| The French Connection                                                                        | 28        |
| The Delhi School of Economics                                                                | 30        |
| Harvard University                                                                           | 33        |
|                                                                                          |           |
| 3. Attacking Meritocracy at the Indian Institutes    of Technology               | 41 |
| Overview                                                                                     | 41        |
| The Origin of Western Meritocracy                                                            | 43        |
| A History of Separating Artisans and Engineers in India                                      | 44        |

|                                                        |           |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Merit Considered a Form of Cultural Capital            | 47        |
| Entrance Exams Conceal Caste Privileges                | 52        |
| Merit as Male Dominated Capitalism                     | 53        |
| Institutional Kinship Among IITians and Brand          |           |
| Development Considered Casteist                        | 53        |
| Attack on Silicon Valley                               | 56        |
| Breaking Ranks with Afro-Dalits                        | 58        |
| The Politics of Jawaharlal Nehru v/s Narendra Modi     | 59        |
| Concerns with Ajantha Subramanian's Thesis             | 61        |
| 4. Indian Americans Equated with White Racists  | 65 |
| Overview                                               | 65        |
| Compiling US Databases of Indian American Caste Abuses | 66        |
| Litigations on Caste in the United States of America   | 72        |
| The US Technology Industry                      | 73        |
| American Colleges and Universities              | 78        |
| American Local Governments                      | 80        |
| Issues and Challenges                                  | 83        |
| Globalizing the Dalit Empowerment Movement             | 84        |
| A Silver Lining                                        | 87        |
| 5. Ashoka University and the Shanghai           |           |
| Meritocracy Workshop                            | 88 |
| 6. Conversation between Rajiv Malhotra and      |           |
| IIT Madras Faculty                              | 93 |
| Allegation That the IITs Were Founded as Elite Places  |           |
| with Big Budgets                                       | 94        |
| Theory of Caste as Cultural Capital                    | 95        |
| Is Caste Relevant at IITs?                             | 97        |
| Allegation: Focus is on Computer Science So Brahmins   |           |
| Do Not Dirty Their Hands                               | 98        |
| Anti-meritocracy                                       | 98        |
| Impact on Competitiveness                              | 99        |

|                                                                                 |            |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Methodological Flaws in Scholarship                                             | 100        |
| Issues with Social Sciences                                                     | 101        |
| Implications of This Battle in India and Globally                               | 102        |
| The IITs are Unprepared to Face the Challenge                                   | 105        |
|                                                                             |            |
| 7. Battle for Higher Education: Social SciencesVersus Hard Sciences | 107 |
| Wokeism Enters Research and Higher Education                                    | 110        |
| Social Scientists Become the Sustainability Police                              | 111        |
| Pushback in American Academia                                                   | 115        |
| Necessity for a Debate in India                                                 | 119        |
|                                                                             |            |
| Endnotes                                                                 | 123 |
|                                                                             |            |
| Acknowledgments                                                          | 133 |
|                                                                             |            |
| Bibliography                                                             | 135 |
|                                                                             |            |
| Index                                                                    | 141 |